THE FOLLY

Do not be fooled by the traditional stone and olive-coloured windows of this 16th-century farmhouse, because inside it's a whirlwind of old and new. Jewel-coloured sofas, velvet throws, copper baths and vintage knick-knacks fill the rooms (the property is owned by interior designer Jo Berryman). For those with ants in their pants, there's a whopper of a tennis court, and mountain bikes are on hand for whizzing around the Gloucestershire hills.
